

Final Project Proposal: Javascript Bartender

Nicholai L'Esperance

Core:

- A website to help inspire cocktail making ideas.
- A user can log in, and manage their current inventory of ingredients
- The website will provide a list of cocktails they can make with their current ingredients, as well as instructions on how to make them.
- Users can submit their own recipes as well, for anyone to enjoy (which then become searchable).

Extra:

- Users can post comments on recipes and rate them.
- A user can search for cocktails that they can almost make, if only they had a few additional ingredients.
- A separate search page that does not require log in, where a user can check off ingredients, and find drinks that include as many of the checked ingredients as possible.